*As I Look Back on My Life
One of the Most Constant and Powerful Things
I Have Experienced Within Myself
Is the Desire to Be More Than I Am at the Moment*

*An Unwillingness to Let Myself Remain
Where I Am*

A Desire to

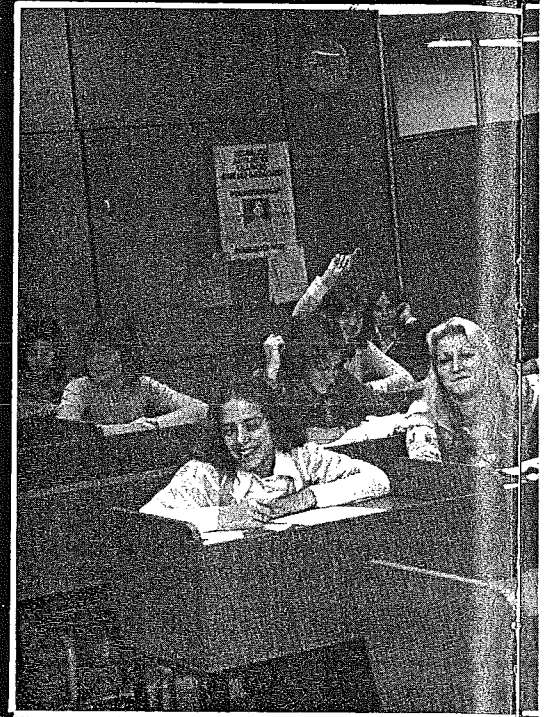

Increase the Boundaries of Myself

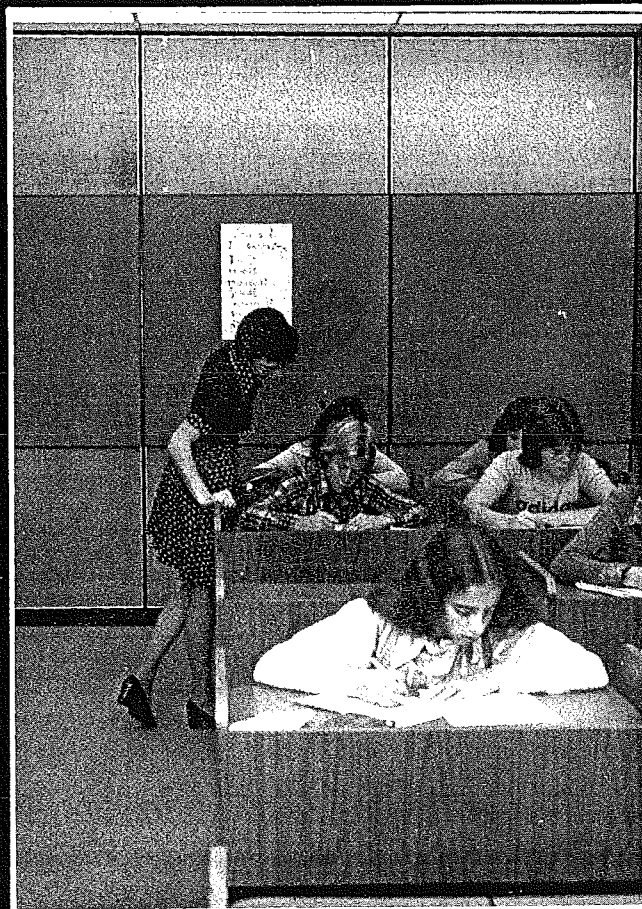

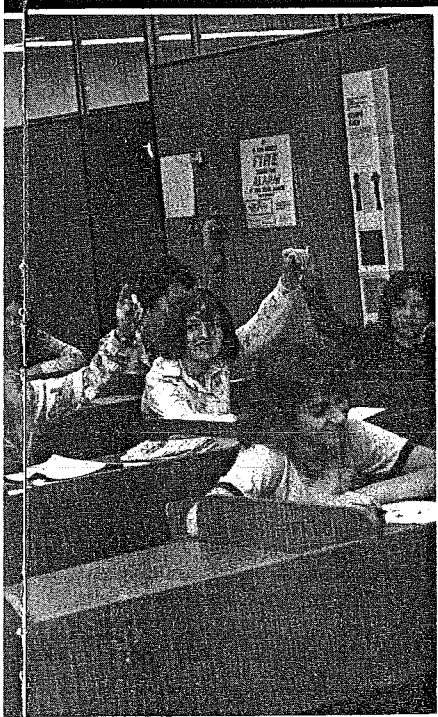

A Desire to

Do More, Learn More, Express More

A Desire to Grow, Improve, Accomplish, Expand.

I Used to Interpret This Inner Push as Meaning That There Was Some One Thing Out There I Wanted to Do or Be or Have.

Courtesy of Ms. Douglas' first semester homeroom class.

And I Have Spent Too Much of My Life Trying to Find It.

But I Know That This Energy Within Me Is Seeking More Than the Mate or the Profession or Religion, More Even Than Pleasure or Power of Meaning

*It Is Seeking Out More of Me;
or Better, It Is, Thank God,
Flushing Out More of Me.*

ADMINISTRATION

TO MEMBERS OF THE LORD ELGIN COMMUNITY

As we examine our sixth yearbook, many memories will be recalled. The school year, 1975-1976 at Lord Elgin will be remembered for several achievements at both the school and individual levels.

This is the year that our total immersion courses began in the community after two years of intensive preparation; this is the year that our most successful and spirited assemblies were held; and this is the year that our homerooms of 10 to 15 students provided a much needed forum for student dialogue with adults.

The staff of "Reflections 1976" deserve much credit for many hundreds of hours of work. In particular, Miss Shirley Martin, staff coordinator, and Anna Soberg, yearbook editor, deserve special thanks. The co-operation and involvement of many people in this production are a fine example of our philosophy in action at Lord Elgin High School. This year's book is more than twenty pages larger than last year and is our biggest effort to date. I wish to congratulate the staff of "Reflections" for capturing the spirit and events of Elgin during the past year. Your efforts are greatly appreciated by our total community.

P.A. Martindale
Principal

MESSAGES

This yearbook is a collection of pictures that recall the activities and events of 1975-76. As with any collection, however, only certain elements of the total school happenings can be included.

A similar process occurs in our learning. We can hardly be expected to master all knowledge, but what remains is the collective wisdom of our time which we can carry with us after 1975-76. As well, our individual commitment to the goals of Lord Elgin—humanity, reason, and excellence—provides us with a collective strength as we all work towards those ends in our life. Thus, to the staff of the yearbook who provide us with the medium to recall our activities, learnings, and goals, I extend my sincere congratulations for another superb edition.

E. Miazga
Vice-Principal

Vice-Principals are the only people in any high school who are not there by choice. That's right, the staff and students CHOOSE to be at a high school. Vice Principals receive appointments.

"How do you feel about going to Lord Elgin?" I was asked last spring.

"I have some very high expectations," I would usually reply. I was speaking about the staff, the program and students.

I've seen the staff and program for part of one year. They've exceeded my expectations--by far.

I've talked with fifty percent of you in classrooms, hallways, club meetings and in my office. I'm still coming to grips with a special kind of difference in you. I see an extra degree of confidence, judgment and respect. I see trust. I'm realizing that the Lord Elgin environment, created by a caring staff and by yourselves, has caused this. I know now that this environment is as important to your education as the courses you take.

When you graduate from Lord Elgin, please realize that you are leaving a very special school.

"Are you glad that you're at Lord Elgin?" I was recently asked by a friend.

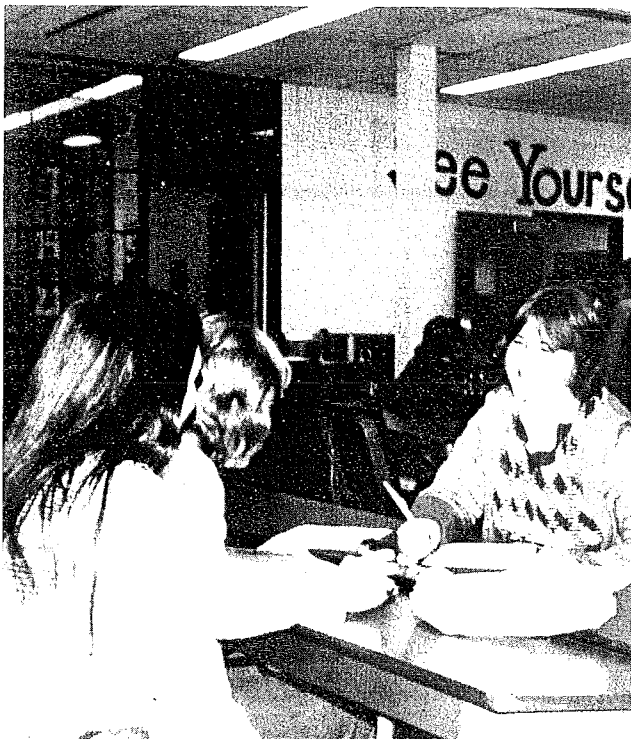

You'd better believe it!

Ross Smyth
Vice-Principal

We, the editor and co-editor of the yearbook, would like to thank all the people that came out to help with our yearbook, Reflections, '76. There are too many to mention, but special thanks should go to our staff advisor, Miss S. Martin. In this yearbook, we have tried to fulfill the suggestions that you gave us. A great deal of work has been put forth to get this book published on time. We sincerely hope you enjoy this book.

STUDENT COUNCIL

John D'Addario, Mike Evans, Andrew Spicer, Gail Retallack, Kelly McLaughlin, Laura Belzak, Dan O'Driscoll, Lynne Golanch, Wendy McMan, Wendy Hux, Tracy Hackett, Terry Roland, Jeff Taylor, Rob Moores, Dave Dimmell, Ian Dovey, April White.

The only thing I think I can say is thank you. Both staff and students have outdone themselves, participating in numerous activities, especially a few outstanding individuals, without whose time and efforts we would not have had such a strong Council.

We have attempted to meet the students' needs and desires in not only providing various activities around the school but also by giving them something they want — a student concourse.

We had one event this year which the grade 13's started — a graduating Common's Room. No issue has ever brought to this school the hussle, bussle and talk which was developed by concerned individuals. Everyone joined together working on this idea, to make this dream come true.

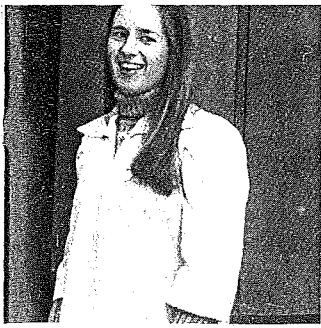

This year we developed a handbook along with homeroom days to make the students more aware of what their Council is and has been doing for them. Along with annual events — Christmas program, Spring Fling, we also had Clubs day, marathon dance, Penny Carnival and a Crazy Olympics day.

Personally, this experience will follow me throughout my life: working with enthusiastic people, learning so many things. What especially learned was that Lord Elgin staff are the best to work with — creative, enthusiastic, genuine people.

Many thanks again.
